

Assignment 1: Introduction

Shiqi Zheng

OVERVIEW

This exercise accompanies the introductory material in Environmental Data Analytics.

Directions

1. Rename this file `<FirstLast>_A01_Introduction.Rmd` (replacing `<FirstLast>` with your first and last name).
2. Change “Student Name” on line 3 (above) with your name.
3. Work through the steps, creating code and output that fulfill each instruction.
4. Be sure to answer the questions in this assignment document.
5. When you have completed the assignment, Knit the text and code into a single PDF file.
6. After Knitting, submit the completed exercise (PDF file) to the appropriate assignment section on Sakai.

1) Finish setting up R Studio

Install TinyTex

Now, run this code cell the same way. This will install “tinytex” – a helper app that allows you to knit your markdown documents into professional quality PDFs.

Set your default knit directory

This setting will help deal with relative paths later on... - From the Tool menu, select Global Options - Select the RMarkdown section - In the “Evaluate chunks in directory”, set the option to “Project” (If you don’t see this option, try restarting RStudio.)

2) Discussion Questions

Enter answers to the questions just below the `>Answer:` prompt.

1. What are your previous experiences with data analytics, R, and Git? Include both formal and informal training.

Answer: I learnt R in several previous courses as a tool, especially in the statistic fields. And I’m familiar with data analytics methods in geology related fields. But this is my first time using Git and Github.

2. Are there any components of the course about which you feel confident?

Answer: I feel confident about data visualization and spatial analysis.

3. Are there any components of the course about which you feel apprehensive?

Answer: This is my first time heard about data wrangling, I know nothing about this part.

3) GitHub

Provide a link below to your forked course repository in GitHub. Make sure you have pulled all recent changes from the course repository and that you have updated your course README file, committed those changes, and pushed them to your GitHub account.
